There were two boys - they were the best of friends, they did everything together ~~they~~ but they were ~~the~~ the exact opposites. Their names were Mickey and Josh. Josh had black hair it was shiny and curled and it covered his brown eyes that glowed in the light, he had pale white <sup>fair</sup> skin and a scar that ran across his face. Mickey, however, had a pile of luscious blonde hair and a pair of crystal-like blue eyes and lips as red as apples. It was Friday but Josh had detention so Mickey had to wait for Josh because they were planning to have a playdate. When finally it was gone and Josh was able to leave, they went to the shop and bought snacks. When they got to the house they kicked off their shoes and put on their gaming headsets.

The clock was ticking and the snacks were nearly empty so when their game finished, they went to refill the snacks but Josh left to use the bathroom, when Mickey finished refilling he sat down on the couch only to hear a crash coming from the bathroom he knocked on the door but Josh said he's ok.

When Josh got out he was in a hurry and left the house with haste but before Josh left, Krakey noticed Jostin's top and the words were backwards maybe it was the design? He didn't know, he decided to just not think about it. He went to the bathroom to see what had happened in the bathroom when he opened the door he fell <sup>about a second</sup> <sub>ago</sub> back in terror, it was Jostin had a big hole in the mirror and blood splatters were all over the walls.

he figured out what happened

Everyone has a right to education because in our lives at some point we will need to get a job and earn money for our families. Getting education is really important you don't wanna be homeless? Say if someone asked you to read a book you wouldn't be able to because of your education and it could affect your <sup>future</sup> ~~future~~. If people keep on thinking that men have more rights than women when women won't have the right education.

The Cat Pack

By Amelie

In an adventures world a curious pack of cats come to solve your problems and make the world a better place.

Misty the cat was just drinking her milk. She had a fantastic combed ginger eye she had green eyes. Misty could see the blue ocean glittering in her eyes telling her a adventure is a waiting for her. Misty slowly got up and slid through her flap door and climbed down from the rocks.

Misty had <sup>finally</sup> ~~finally~~ arrived at the beach. "It was true that Misty hated the water but she loved the sweet soiling salty air it made her feel happy! Every day she would go there and play. After a while Misty spotted something shiny in the ocean. Misty got up and touched it but it had to pull her into the ocean she tried to get out but it was no use. Soon enough she was in the water. Misty was scared but couldn't figure out what that shiny thing was. Misty thought that if she closed her eyes it should all just be a dream so she closed them but once she opened them she was in a completely different place where she just saw cats, cats, cats & MORE

CATS!! Misty was so confused but it looks like she was going to find out herself which meant adventure! Misty decided to ask a few "cats" questions

A black funny cat with green eyes and came up saying "hello! you must be new right?" Misty said "w-w-well yes..." "Oh well welcome to Catland!" said the black cat "Catland?" she said confused "YES!"

Came a angry reply "Oh hello Anna!" said the black cat "Who are you too?" said Misty puzzled "I'm so sorry i'm bella and this is Anna and you are-" "Misty" said Misty "I really want to go home" she said upset

"Ohhh" said Anna "What?" said Misty "I should as know" said Anna "YOUR A IMPOSTER" she said angrily "Whatever you're not helping one bit-" Misty said sarcastically. "Oh-well have a good day," said Bella. Misty was highly annoyed by all of this drama.

Misty didn't know what to do ~~for it~~ she was hopeless.... She found a alley to sleep there for the night. Soon she settled in and was ready to drift to sleep when she heard something

It was something... growling.... AND POUNCED!

Misty couldn't tell what it was but it looked so cute!! "hmm" Misty was thinking what could she do with it?. The cat was pouncing around the alley "ill adopt you!" said Misty.

"Meow" said the cat. So cute though Misty

Just when she saw Anna & Bella "Anna Bella!"

she shouted "oh hi Misty" "How are you?"

"good thank you!" "you?"

"good!!" said Bella

"I need your eggs help!" she bawled

"Well what do you need?" said Bella confused.

It was windy cold & dark "Misty where the hell we going?"

"Bella you ask to much" said Anna instantly

"Well-" but Bella was mistand for words.

"THERE!" said Misty

"What?!?" said both of the cats aggruemently

"Cats...."

Well of course there are cats she said impatient

The next thing they knew Misty was gone

"Where did she go?" said Bella

"I swear she was right there...."

"The next thing they knew they were flying to."

"AHHH!" cried Bella & Anna

There was something holding them...

The Hidden River

All Molly could think about was the pocket watch. Nothing else. The interactive whiteboard was just a blur in front of her. Why had she and Robin never seen that river before? She didn't know but she had to concentrate. Why had the river been hidden? 'Concentrate. Molly. Concentrate!' she thought to herself. But school was so boring! And the pocket watches were important! They were in the river! Why?

"Just forget about it Molly!" said Robin in exasperation "It's probably just, like, I dunno! A pocket watch that someone dropped!"
Their feet patted down the cobble street.

"Two pocket watches! And they were next to each other!"
Robin paused.

"Penny for them?" Molly asked

Robin sighed, "Fine, we can look at the pocket watches and go and investigate the river again." Molly was aching to punch the sky but she didn't want to make Robin change her mind.

When they got back the sky was streaked with gold, purple, pink and orange. They rushed back home to get the pocket watches, and grabbed one each. It took them a while to find the rivers but when they did, they parted the plaited vines to reveal the amazing sight that had left them hypnotised for so long.

"Wow," Breathed Robin, "It's so incredible!"
But Molly was already jumping over the stepping stones to hear her comment.

"C'mon!" Molly yelled from one of the stepping stones, "last one to the middle of the river is a rotten egg!"

Robin started sprinting across the stepping stones, eager to win.

Robin caught up to Molly, and got an evil idea to push Molly in the river as it was only knee high. So she did and Robin ended up in the river as well.

They spent half an hour playing in the river and they were having so much fun, that they didn't realise how long they had been playing.

"Mum's - gonna - Kill us!" They parted simultaneously, and they fell back laughing like a bunch of hyenas. And as they walked down the rocky old path with their arms linked, the trees sneezed their leaves, the breeze pinched their faces, and the sun went to sleep; only a thin line of light peeped over the horizon.

A woman rose out of the water. Her hair was streaks of water and they were glowing over her pale, cloud-like cheeks. She was beautiful; her crystal eyes gazed dreamily her small body saintly and delicate. She was like a girl, but with a woman's voice, "Don't touch the pocket watches, throw them over the cliff. Don't touch the pocket watches, throw them over the cliff." She kept repeating this until her voice went slightly hoarse.

Molly rolled in her sleep.

She was floating above the water now, it was the hidden river she and Robin had found! But Molly was concentrating on her face. Her words.

"Listen to me Molly, listen to me!"
This was enough to make Molly wake up.

Tap! Tap! Tap! Robin sat up in bed.

"Hello?" She asked wearily. Molly opened the creaky door and peered in. "Molly!" Robin straightened up, "What are you doing here?"

Molly gently shut the door. "Sorry to wake you," Molly replied as she flicked on the light switches causing Robin to wince at the bright shine. "I just, well, wanted to talk to you."

"Why? About what? And why now in the middle of the night?"

"I just..." Molly trailed off, then took a deep breath, "I had a nightmare, that's all. I just felt so sad talking to you." Molly sat down on the edge of Robin's bed, and they both sat and thought for a while until Robin broke the silence by saying, "What was your bad dream?"

So Molly told Robin about how the woman had risen out of the water and what strange things the woman had said. Molly even said a few details that she hadn't noticed in her dream, about the scene, for she was focusing on what the woman said and looked like. And as Molly talked on and relived the dream, the more pale Robin went and by the end, Robin was as white as paper. Molly was so lost in her own voice, that it was only when she finished talking that she realized how white her sister had gone.

"Robin! what's wrong? Did I scare you!?"

Molly grinned slightly for she was normally the one to get scared at Robin's tricks.

"I -" Robin tried to get the words out but couldn't, "I just, had the...the same dream."

Molly understood why Robin went white. That just wasn't normal! Molly was sitting on the soft, cushiony bed with her head swirling with puzzling thoughts, waiting for Robin to come back from the kitchen with a glass of water. She had never seen Robin so dazed and confused. When Robin came back, she was wobbling and nearly spilt the water.

"Woah! Easy tiger!" Molly laughed, trying to brighten the mood, but it didn't work.

"Why don't we go for a walk?" Molly asked.

"But it's midnight!" Robin said, perplexed.

Molly scowled, "Who cares! Besides, you and I need to get our minds off things, have a chat, get some fresh air."

So they grabbed a torch and pocket watch each, crept down the stairs, pulled on their coats and boots and set off into the darkness.

After a ten minute walk, they had arrived at the hidden river once again and were sitting on two of the stepping stones with a pocket watch clasped in one hand, a torch in the other. The moon was bright that night. The twilight sky was crowded with stars, shining like a thousand diamonds. Below the millions of specks of fairy dust, was a very bemused Molly and a very worried Robin.

"What do you think it all means? I mean, this doesn't happen every day does it? This is so confusing!" groaned Molly.

Robin nodded vigorously. She was very quiet.

"Hey! My clock says quarter past two! Why don't we change them to the right time? It's currently..." Molly checked her digital watch, "Twelve Thirty Seven."

They both turned the hands on the clocks to match the correct time.

"There we go!" Molly exclaimed.

But before they could say anything else, they had both disappeared into thin air.

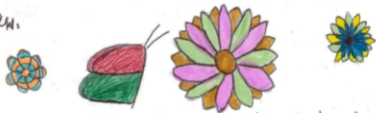

Molly felt as if she were going to throw up. She was spinning and spinning and it was like it never ended. Until she eventually fell flat on her face onto some itchy grass.

"What the..." Molly whispered, "Is that a... a portal? Wait where am I? Did this pocket watch... teleport me? Wait the portal!"

But it was too late. The portal had shut. From watching a lot of films, Molly had learnt that you had to get back through the portal to get home. Molly pinched herself to see if it was a dream, but it was all real. She called Robin's name multiple times, but there was no answer. Everything was dead silent. As her eyes adjusted to the dark, she realized that she was on one side of a meadow which was on the edge of a forest. On the other side, there was a little hut that was lit dimly by a fire. She could just make out a small, plump woman sitting next to a little, old man. The woman was knitting and the man was reading the paper. Molly would've asked for help, but she knew that they were strangers and her mother and father had always warned her about talking to strangers. And even if they weren't bad, they wouldn't believe a ten year old girl that was all alone at midnight that there was a portal, so she decided against going to their house. She was completely bereft of ideas, so she cried and cried and cried until she had no more tears left to cry. She decided that she would just huddle against a tree, and wait until morning and then she could work things out. So she was trapped in another place, another world another time without knowing what to do, or where she was. She could be trapped there forever, for all she knew.

Robin was scared, and cold. She had just come flying through a portal into a different world and didn't know where she was. It was like a nightmare but worse and real. Then she thought of Molly, Her poor sister. 'It must've happened to her too, I mean she also had a pocket watch,' Robin thought. So Robin called for Molly repeatedly but everything stayed quiet. Why was this happening?

Would she ever get home? She didn't know the answer to any of these questions, so Robin wept herself to sleep.

"Don't be afraid Molly," The woman said gently, "I will not hurt you. I need to explain the dangers of the pocket watches. You have time travelled to the past and your sister has time travelled to the future." Molly knew this was another dream from the same woman as before, but she somehow had a feeling that the dream would tell her something about her sister and where to find her. Her prediction was correct.

"You will be able to see your sister again. But you only have one chance. At exactly the same time you arrived (Twelve Thirty-Seven) and wait for the portal to open in exactly the same spot you arrived and go into the portal and you will be taken back to your own family and your own timeline. Listen to these instructions carefully and you will be saved from being trapped in the past forever." The woman paused and then spoke again, "I have created the pocket watch so that scientists could find out facts about the past, and predict meters in the future but the pocket watches have gotten into the wrong hands! The woman then faded into the darkness.

Robin was waiting patiently where she had arrived, hoping the dream wasn't just a dream but the actual woman talking to her.

"I hope this is real and she isn't trying to hunt me and Molly and the portal will open at the same time we arrived," Robin chatted to herself. Robin was almost bursting with excitement. She couldn't wait to tell Molly her adventure! But wouldn't mum and dad ask a lot of questions? Well, if they did, she would tell them the truth, even if they didn't believe her. Robin had discovered a wishing tree but you could only use it once a day. On the first night, she had picked a leaf and at exactly the same time, she had said, "Oh I wish I had some water!" And there was some water in front of her. She tried to wish for something else, but it only worked once a day. The second day she wished for food and it had appeared. She had also discovered flying cars which she was very excited about and new food such as: Sushi-cookie. Robin waited for a while until the portal finally opened. Robin stepped into it, and felt the swirling blackness take over her body.

They were standing in front of each other: Sisters. Once again. And then they both started crying happy tears and hugging each other so tightly, they could've squeezed the air out of each other.
"Let's go to mum and dad now, shall we?"

Molly suggested, "They'll be happy to see us." So they rushed back home to find their mum and dad outside their house with the police talking to them.

"Mum! Dad!" Robin and Molly shouted in unison and they hugged for about ten minutes until they went to bed with sweet dreams of their family and the adventures they had.

The next day, Molly, Robin and their mum and dad went on a cliff walk which was lucky for Molly and Robin, as they needed to throw the pocket watches over the cliff. They chatted about their adventures, and they could tell their parents were aching to ask where they went when they got lost, but they just left it and were obviously just happy that they were home. When they got to the cliff, Robin and Molly held and counted down from three, "Three, two, one, GO!" And they threw the pocket watches for over the cliff. But little did they know, that there was someone watching Robin and Molly, who would make sure that the pocket watches did not smash. And as he watched the little family hold hands and walk over the hill to the little cage on the other side of the hill, he cackled with laughter, "This will not be the end!"

The odd one out

It was Dennis' first day of university - he started at Harvard. It was hard for Dennis to make friends. He finally made a friend called Mikey. By the way, the reason why Dennis is the odd one out is because he has long hair. Life was getting harder and harder.

Then he made a speech that made everybody like him also the girls. He became a model he loved his life. From being bullied to being loved from poor to rich. This is a speech about anti-bullying differences differences

Once upon a time there was a boy called Tarje he was <sup>World war I</sup> born in a ~~unhappy~~ time because it was during world war I. His mother and father were very poor. His father worked in a hospital and his mother had <sup>to</sup> stay at home his look after Tarje.

By the time he was 10 he was able to shoot a sniper. The war broke out in 1914 he was forced to join the British army he was given a sniper and was trained too he able too shoot long distances. The next day was the first day of the war. This is were the young boys. The next day it was everyone was dying. Tarje was put into a tank with a bullet in his belt and a sniper on his back. He got his first kill when he shot him with a pistol. He was being chased into the forest by a bunch of Germans. It was hard to dodge all of them but he managed it. He was caught in a German trap he was stuck the next morning he was on a ship moving Germany. what was he

When he got their he was put into the germny army and this time his leader was hitler. He was given diffrent armor he had: a helmet with three spikes on top; a pistol on his belt; it was going to be hard.

The next day was training, he had a plan to escape the german army and get back to the british army were he belonged. It would be a hard journey he would have to travel across oceans, but he will make it.

The next week he made it back to England and rejoined the English army he went back to the germny as a spy for english he kept on reporting to the military he found out a secret plan from hitler they were building a massive missile that will have ready done making the missile. "Hello on too see you."

"Make sure you lock him up tight so he can not escape again."

he spent 5 weeks until he was put as a slave for hitler. He had to build a activate two blow off the missile. from dar on he went to the factory two work on the detonator, after a week it was finished and hitler was impressed. Then after <sup>two</sup> weeks all the factory workers hopped into a truck with hitler and drove to the space. when they the missile was ready.

They started the count down but when they got to 1 it did not blow up. They all started arguing what had happen, while they were arguing Tarja escaped over the fence and back into germany. He goes back to the factory he gets some supplies and paints his plane as a english plane and took off two days. "I hour in the air. 205 gallons of fuel I can make it."

"2 days later half of my fuel ~~is gone~~" we can use it when were older one day and without education, we can't get jobs, and by getting a job you get money and without money you can't raise a family. Sometimes, men always think that they can do everything better than women, examp; football, maths, education, teach and more, they also think that women don't have a right to educate, that's the reason Malala got shot. Stop Gender Stereotypes! If you keep on carrying on, I'll probably obstruct you my self. Both genders are balanced. Malala is fortuitous to survive

THREE HEADSHOTS.

Villain's:

Prisoners:

A full family of six were in the house having the consistent and boring Monday morning that they always have. "Honey!!"

"Yes?"

"The baby spat up on me again! And this is my last shirt, therefore I need you to go back to the shop and buy me 10 to 40 shirts please!"

"Oh great and how much will THAT cost?"

"OK first of all it costs at least $200 and second, HURRY UP! I HAVE WORK!"

The mother's life was mostly challenging but with THREE KIDS it was very strenuous. Her name was Vanessa, her husband's name was Liam and her kids were Cynthia, Cecil and Lisa.

"Mom works really hard, she deserves a break," said Cecil, "with these kids it must be hard."

"Nah. She's fine and, besides, if you planned on taking care of Lisa, everytime she cries you'll turn down your hearing aids!" "No! I would never shut out the nature of our baby sister!" "I love our sister!"

"I have pranks to work on. I need silence."

Cynthia and Cecil always argue but sometimes they get along. Once Vanessa got her shirt, her, Liam and Lisa went to work which left Cynthia and Cecil home isolated.

Subsequently a few hours working on pranks and watching TV some sceptical, unidentified spies show up at the house in a glossy black car dressed very sharply. The men had searched the house from the outside to see if anyone was inside, at first they thought that no-one was home but once they heard TV shows booming out, they knew that the coast wasn't clear.

Once the men had spotted that there were kids inside, they were on the point of open the front door and kidnap them, but instead, they fell into one of Cynthia's pranks. The men stepped on the welcome mat and SPLAT! Her slime completely destroyed their suits and made their hair look like they live on the streets. After a few seconds of getting messy, the mat had turned into a black hole and soaked them up like a sponge sucking up water.

Welcome

After hearing screams of a goat, Cynthia and Cecil stopped what they were doing and went to where they heard the scream.

"What was that?" snapped Cynthia

"I have no idea but we have to..."

"Nope. Zip it. I know what to do." Cynthia interrupted

"Ok geez!" Cecil exclaimed

"Come and stand here, on my left." said Cynthia

Cecil slowly walked to stand on her left very aggravated. After, the floor lowered them down.

"Woah! What is this place?" asked Cecil

"I'm sure I said be quiet" Cynthia said

Where the floor brought them was a secret lair which had supplies inside. The lair was very dark and they could barely see anything, but they knew that it was epic.

There once was a  named Dave. He lives in the land of "The pond." Dave has a wife and 2 kids, (but these not too important in the story.) Everyone believes that he is the protector of all of them. Dave has a close friend called Tod. (Although Tod can be a bit grish some times.) But then one day some of the angry fish neighbors were disturbing the Hims. (I forgot to say, everyone in the story apart from the angry fish, live all Hiproo!) But no fear Dave is here! He chased all them away. This happened many times and everytime, Tod's face got more and more jelouse.

"Everything alright?" Dave asked,

"Just leave me alone!" Tod shouted "Go be the Superhero everyone thinks you are! leave me alone!"

Tod walked off very sad but ~~very~~ eventually everyone was sound asleep.

A week later, Tod was so jelouse that he through huge rock the size of cars into the water. They all screamed but nobody was injured - yet - Dave helped every mother and father find their kids, every child find there sibling there were all safe, eventually. But Tod was so angry, he pushed ~~the~~ <sup>Dave</sup> ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> cliff. everyone watched in horror as Dave the hero, was now gone. "Hah! The amazing fat superhero is now gone! now you will all have Me! and will worship Me!" For the next 2 months they all worshipped him, but they eating any food and drink they cried in misery. But then there was a loud

BANG! I + was Dave! He had come back. (The hero had been alive all along!) They all cheered in pleasure as Tod stood there angrily but knew that he would be punished so they all put him on a slingshot (which was only used for emergencies) and flung him all the way into the fish neighbors territory. (who would of known hippos having a slingshot!) From that day on Tod was a name from the past. No one had mention his name ever again.

From then every hippo lived a good life, (well apart from the fact they are sadly and slowly getting extinct, yes!) and they all lived happily ever after actually I have one more thing. this is a lesson that just shows you ladies and gentlemen, Every animal has a brain of their own.

Apapart from us humans tho, all we do is eat, sleep, wake up, wee, go watch the internet and again, the same process. I thank you ladies and gentlemen for reading my story!

Or was it the end of the story?...

~~HAHA!~~ HA HA HA HA HA! You thought wrong my friends as it is not all over yet.

So remember Tod from earlier? well he is now a toilet cleaning baby changing worker for the fish in their territory. He got what he deserved. :D
In his meantime tho he watched TV, and played music. But as were all . . . not guessing it was quite okay. Tod had a roommate named Moll. Some how they both enjoyed each others company.
(quite weird if you ask me.) And had some fun times together.

"Be careful okay him?" Daves wife had said, giving him a kiss goodbye. "I will, dont worry."
Dave said breathing ~~in~~ in. And then he was off, off on a journey... Too see Tod of course! Duh! Who wouldn't of known!

Finally, outside the doorstep of "Ponds Drive"
Dave knocked on the door. Moll opened the door and knew ~~it~~ straight away who he was.
"Why are you here" she said
"To see my ex-best friend Tod."
"Tod you have a visitor!" Moll said.
"Ogh let them in then!" Tod said yawning.
"Hi Tod..." Dave said in a way he didnt know the response to. "What do you want Dave? Why are you here? After what I did..?"
"Yes! I would love to give a good friend a chance!"
"But only if a friend can join?"
"Sure! Three space for all." They all swam back to the pond and enjoyed a nice dinner. "I missed this old place. The pond the kids playground I miss it, all of it." As everyone avoided him, thinking that he would attack, he got a microphone and said. "F

Will not hurt you, none of you, speaking of wish, in my opinion I don't wanna be a hero anyway, I wanna be a cleaner so don't worry. "They all cheered and celebrated as they all lived happily ever after.
(And I mean it this time! 😊)

Mia's Magical Adventure!!!

One dark night Mia was bored and wanted to go on another one of her amazing adventures but she didn't know where to go so while her mum was at work she snuck downstairs, grabs some things, stuffs them into a bag, gets her bike and she's off into the forest.

The deeper she goes into the forest the scarier it gets, "why did I have to go at night?" she sighs. She sees a bright light in the distance but she just supposes it just a bright torch. "Hmm... maybe somebody is here with me! I can ask them for help to get out of this place. there's nothing exiting here anyway and I'm getting tired." She goes deeper into the forest and gets herself really lost. The closer she gets to the bright light blinds her eyes more and more soon she realises that the bright light is more than a torch it's a gook glow bright in one of the tallest trees in the forest ~~resting up~~ high "Hello!" she shouts, "who are you!" "hmm.... who could that be" He mumbles sleepily.

"Hellooooo I'm talking to youuuu..." Mia says a little annoyed

"Oh! sorry I didn't see you there"

"Who or what are you?"

"I'm Alexander and also a ghost..." he mutters

"Soooo you're dead"

"yeah..."

5 minutes later they found themselves wandering off into the forest and later they find an abandoned house and inside they hear a loud roar - as loud as a lion.

"Why don't we head b-back" she stutters

"No I'm pretty sure that the exit to the forest is right around here."

Alex opens the door and there's a loud long creak and in that very moment the foul beast awakens.

"What is that!!!" Mia screams

"Shhhhhhh..." Alex says quickly covering ~~her~~ her mouth. "Hes awake so back away very slowly"

Soon the demon monster what ever it is turns around with Alex and Mia just staring into his beady eyes.

Alexander ran and ran as fast as he could but in the end he realised that he had left mia but, by the time he got back it was to late he saw mia lying dead on the floor. while he was drowning in his own tear he look up and saw a bright light and soon realised that, that bright light was mias gosht hovering over his head smiling at him

THE VENUS FLY TRAP AND ITS MAGICAL GIFTS

His name was Kiro. Skin soft like velvet. His eyes were bright green, so bright they could be shot through a brick wall. He had curly ~~curly~~ hair, it was quite bushy like a bunny's tail. His eyes, they were big, maybe as big as saucers. As stereotypical people with glasses are nerds and his appearance fit that high school nerd look.

"Hey mum I'm going out!" Kiro said.

"OK stay safe darling."

Kiro started walking out and walked near the fountain near the enchanted tree. The rule is to never peek to never ~~peek~~ <sup>peek</sup> from it. It could either give a blessing or a curse. He was staring at it <sup>deeply</sup> as he was grabbing his ~~arm~~ <sup>arm</sup>. "Don't." His friend said as grabbing his arm.

Kiro went back home and was disappointed.

The next day he ran and ran, until he got to the fountain.

He saw a the Enchanted tree and climbed up and grabbed a weird looking fruit. He took a bite.

"I have done a forbidden act."

After he said that, a venus fly trap grew enormously in a pot right in front of him. It appears that there was a plain red packet inside its mouth.

The red packet was calling and whispering to open it. He tore it apart and started eating the weirdly shaped blue bean. It tasted like something that came from another planet. It was delicious. He became greedy and couldn't stop, that is until he saw a speck of a blue cancer coming off his hair and arms. He became normal again.

The venus fly trap said, "You have been granted invisibility and teleportation." "I will appear when you're

Hi in Hyena I'm the owner of this diary, it all started when he died 3 weeks ago.

2015, 13.5.15 ...

He was on the hallway floor.

So early in the morning! was shocked at first but now it makes sense...

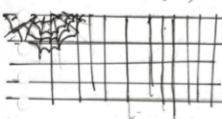

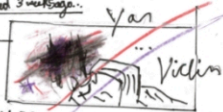

Someone was gonna kill him anyway!

He's already a well known drug dealer and a gambler, it was obviously someone from school, and my first piece of evidence was already found: a rock, it was probably the murder weapon I'm sure! The rock was bigger than his head and really heavy. Ever since Yan has died I've one walked that hall, only going up the stairs. No one has gambled in the school grounds around here to every one being scared the School council will think it's bringing in money. You might be thinking why

I'm starting a diary about this guy (Yan)... I'm starting a detective club! This diary is to keep on track with what's happening—

it's my 'Detective club' book for the members! I have 7 members so far so it's going well! it's

 "No? huh?"
 Oh god... I made a horrible mistake alot of My Members are dying!
 I think one of the members must be the suspect! The Members and I are voting on who should be suspected ... and were beginning to suspect Kyoko?

"It's Kyoko!"
 "You're wrong!"
 "It's her!"
 "Ia!!" "She's acting weird!"
 "I agree anyone - Even Me!! and she's my brother's friend, being rude to me! Not a good look!"
 "Idea!"

anyways... have a look at this!

I had looking inside your locker and... found pictures of Me and My friends it's kind of ..
 its if My brother had given those pictures to him...
 Wonder if he had any friends too? Oh! that's right!

I can check who gambles with him Maybe their his friends? he goes to his bar, but I only know because my brother used to gamble with him in that bar.

ill check TOMMorrow.

Detectives Mystery.

Hi, im currently inside the bar and im going to get a drink.
Hopefully I find out what it is - oh dont worry!
this is legal i 14 19.

~~What's my brother? I think I see my brother. It's not matter
oh no, I think my brother... he was there - huh & huh!

The zombie was by working together. "Aim for the heart it does the most damage" any said. After hours of shooting the zombies finally it was over. "lets go check for survivors" said Taylor in a loud voice they walk to the shelter centre trying to look for people but there were no survivors to be found. "back to base I guess" said Matt. BEEP BEEP BEEP.

There are zombies but there heading to pleasant parts" said TJ. "But how" MATT said. "A tracker" Taylor said.

The team hopped in a car and drove to pleasant park and got there water guns and parked there car in a split second. Lets try shoot the tracker said MATT. He had shot the tracker but they just bounced off. They had to kill the zombies hunkly. Hey there were only Normal zombies. BOOM BOOM BOW

BOW. "Theres only Normal zzzzzzzzzzz". Taylor NOOOO!! screamed. "Shes dead * the tracker zapped her" said MATT in a sad voice. Bloop! "What is this" said any. "The death zone known as the sidings" TJ said. NOO! There were no more zombies just the Big Big Boss "shoot the man" No Any had been zapped to death by the monster. "Theres nothing we can do" TJ screamed. At that second the monster had disappeared. TJ was reloading but at

That second fly was gone, he had been stepped on by the monster. Matt had it he went on the top of the building and chased its his eyes. He fell of the building with no feelings but then it had stopped. The monster caught Matt. All the monster to the said was bye and jumped in the river. Matt was done he sat down and closed his eyes

See you'r report card? "Mum said 'why is my report card so important?' I asked 'DO YOU NOT CARE? Do you not care for what might happen to you in the future?' Mum said 'NO!' I took out my report card and slammed it on the table 'happy?' I rolled my eyes and went, but my mum said 'I am so disappointed in you... I am going to take away your iPad and phone, All the electronics you have!.. I turned back and came running into tears, 'NO Mum please don't do this' I was crying so hard I couldn't talk. 'Well, let me see your report and if it's good then you will have your electronics back, but... if it's bad then you won't have them back until next year' I said. 'What NO I-I' I was shocked I was scared that I might need to study..... Mum gently

Opened my report and..... IT WAS C's and D's 'Well looks like someone has a bad grade! you will not see them until next year!' MUM was so disappointed 'She wanted to burst into anger!' 'MUM please don't do this' I turned and heard foot steps It was dad 'Woah Woahh What is going on here and why are you crying?' dad said 'Well someone here has bad Grades and she will not have electronics for a whole year!' said Mum 'Oh ok then well... Now you have to study more' said dad 'NO NO but I don't want to' I said, I wanted to faint I wanted to scream so loudly! 'Really dad!' I run up to my room

Crying of anger! I slammed my door and jumped on my bed until I calmed down. A few days passed and I have been studying alot. It started to become fun and I started to do well on school I was so proud of myself! but a few day passed and Amelia started to change!....

"Opps Hahahaha" Amelia was bursting to laughter "why are you doing this, are you just Jealous because I am smarter than you!" Amelia Slapped my face but I couldnt let her do that to me!

her Slap was bright red. I Slapped Amelia back she fell on the ground and everyone started asking her if she was OK and they even blamed it on me. I went back home and started studying for hours. The next day I came to school and I overheard Amelia and her dad talking "No please don't send me there!" "Sweetheart it for your own good" but - O-Dad Please "I'm sorry sweetheart" I couldnt believe it I was bursting into happiness but sad at the same time! I went into class and got our Cards from college I entered!

I am so relieved I showed my parents and they were happy!
I became rich and a lawyer I was happy and I had the best life.
Thank you for reading my story

May was on a school trip (A nature walk) She was playing hide and seek unfortunately when the game ended May was still hiding. When she came out from her hiding spot she realised that, to her horror everyone had gone home. It was getting dark and she couldn't see the way home.

Suddenly she hear a story so loud it made them earth shake. She started to tremble with fear "What on earth was that" she said trembling with fear. Then she started to realise hundreds of shadows swirling around. She said to herself, "I've got to get out of here," and she started running as fast as she could. pure fear seized her heart when she realised that the shadows were following her.

She picked up the courage to face the figures, "Ahhhh" she screamed. When she turned round and looked out of the gloom she saw thousands of eyes glistening like as they moved towards her she could make out the spiky and probably fear of thousands of giant spiders. Millions of beady eyes were staring right at her. Terror coursed through her veins like ice but then to her horror it ever warm suddenly she saw two gigantic eyes much taller than the rest above the tree tops. She thought she was going to faint as she realised that there was an absolutely colossal spider staring straight at her. A deep raspy voice came from the spider, "Hello my daughter I have been waiting for you." What do you see? May said. "You are my boy's little daughter of course!" May looked down at her hands and legs suddenly started growing out of her body and she felt her eyes pop out of her head. y... your my dad. You I had you in there 11 years ago. May felt full of rage and happiness when she found out she felt like herself. She smiled as she ran into her dad's arms.

A day later, I stood in a cave filled with amethysts. They sparkled in my torchlight. A passage led toward a dead ~~end~~. I saw a chalice that looked like an amethyst could fit through. I put it up a shaft and pushed it into the hole. With a ~~glowing~~ <sup>glaring</sup> an entrance appeared. I stood in front of the great sword!

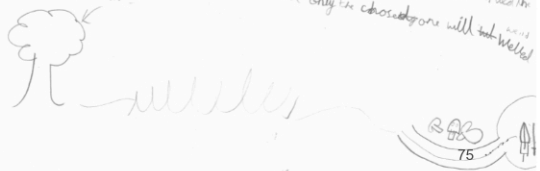

I took the great sword back to the spirit.

"I give the great sword to you" I said. She took it from my hands and told me I had passed the test. I gave it to you.

I found the loggers camp I blast the sword in at the and the roots attack the loggers where they come back and ~~the~~ root ~~with~~ tear them apart.

the End

I saw the loggers getting closer to the Great Tree. and I needed help. I asked the spirit for help. "Dear spirit, please help me!" A spirit appeared said "I will help you if you give me something in return." I happily agreed. "What do you need?" I said "I need a great sword" replied the spirit "Where is it?" I asked "Deep under ground only the chosen one will find it" declared the spirit.

(SERBIA)

It all started with Croatia a strong Slovakia. Croatia went forward to Slovakia but it was going I was in Serbia getting ready for war. The government would not tell us what was happening all we know that we were joining Bosnia, to take a country.

I have blond hair, green eyes and are uniform is camouflage. Also I am not nice when it comes to battle. We marched on then we got to the first town and I told my friend "I am very passionate about taking Croatia and Serbia the army of Serbia". PANIC!!! The tanks were coming over like a pack of wolves, I know I had to take cover so I went into a house, then I found a family. I walked slowly towards them, as they were huddled around a fire, scared.

At first I was going to turn them in, then I saw the faces of the children and I stopped. I know I couldn't do it so I told them to go down stairs, and keep quiet I could hear my general coming down the stairs and I keep quiet. I stopped ~~him~~ him and said, "checked down stairs no-one is there."

TIMO MAVROCURRYCREAM

I went back down stairs and the children hugged me the mum and dad said "thank you" and gave me some bread and told me about some of their friends in the other town we were going to take.

When we reached the next town I looked for the old church and I found it. I walked in slowly and I found the family. I told them "I am not God". I gave them some bread. I told the man that these friends said you were here then. My general walked in. "How dare you betray us now!!!" Then a shot went off and I fell to the ground. I woke in a hospital and I couldn't move.

Croatian hospital? I could hear people speaking in Croatian and I found out that my general was shot and I had fainter. And Croatia won the war. But the rest of the world was in bites. Luckily I was a hero to the Croats, and I lived in Croatia for the rest of my life in peace.

Steam Guard

Henry is a steam punk boy that lives in a city called Steam Guard where people are being kidnapped by mysterious monsters. He was recruited by the government for a rescue mission.

All of a sudden, he heard screaming. He darted towards it and then he saw a girl being kidnapped by a combination of gears and mechanical parts. He quickly hid behind a wall and slowly follows the monster's footsteps.

He followed the monster to a warehouse where a small group of them were talking about where their 'evil master' is hiding. Then Henry sprinted towards one and stabbed it with his sword. He stepped backwards and Dodge the monsters.

snip up sending a wave of steam at the monster's toppling them over and whiped fire all over them as one of them stands up he cut it's head off killing it he had won.

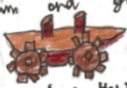

He started searching for the girl around the warehouse until he found a golden chest with the girl inside. he told her to stay here and wait for him.

Henry went on a boat to get to the evil master.

One How later Henry hears a that He gets to investigate and then out of nowhere a black figure dashed towards him with a silver sword striking him Henry perfect a giant leg to block the attack and then he strikes back toppling the isin over and then he jumps up with steam around him and glides to land.

After some time Henry found a hole in a wall leading to the Evil wizard's castle as he ran to the castle gate orders started shooting him with sharp logs he cast a protection spell and ran into the castle.

he looked around he saw a roney looking machine and a wizard he thought this wizard must be him and then the screaming "welcome to my lair" and then he pulled a lever to my pet's and then he pulled a lever and then a hatch in the ground opened revealing a giant robot dragon and then the wizard left in a hot air balloon he said "Have fun of lightning west over of the force" Mochies into the dragon.

The dragon breath lightning at Henry causing him to jump away as the dragon breath more lightning he deflective it with his sword and then he ran up to the machine and decided it explode the whole castle.

As he was around he was thinking where am I. he feel great of infusions.
